

I oppose a rule change that serves private interests. The public deserves to be fully informed and that will not happen with more media consolidation. Diversity of opinion and views are the backbone of an educated society. This whole process of rule change and a vote on it smacks of deliberate disregard for the American people. Public involvement was at one time what democracy was all about. Do not change the current ownership rules.